

URPP Financial Market Regulation

Updated Meta-index on Financial Regulation (the GFRTCI)

More important than size when it comes to financial centers is consistent regulation with modern standards for transparency and compliance. The adoption of rules and standards, and levels of enforcement, however, vary between countries. This can complicate efforts to compare and assess financial centers' reputations and attractiveness. In February 2020, the Swiss Finance Institute (SFI) launched its Global Financial Regulation, Transparency, and Compliance Index — the GFRTCI. A comparison of 31 global leading financial centers showed that the Swiss financial center more than lived up to its good international reputation also in regard to regulatory matters. The GFRTCI was constructed by two URPP FinReg members, Prof. Steven Ongena (SFI Senior Chair) and Prof. Christoph Basten (SFI Faculty Member), as well as Prof. Alfred Mettler (SFI Adjunct Professor and University of Miami), Dr. Markus P.H. Bürgi (SFI), and Mrinal Mishra (SFI PhD Student and University of Zurich). In a webinar on 17 March 2021, the authors will present their findings and an update of the index.
